FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FOUR MORE DEFENDANTS SENTENCED IN CONSPIRACY TO DISTRIBUTE AT LEAST 100 KILOS OF COCAINE IN MID-MISSOURI

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. – Todd P. Graves, United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri, announced that four more defendants were sentenced today for their role in a conspiracy to distribute large quantities of powder and crack cocaine and launder drug money in mid-Missouri since 1998. They were indicted by a federal grand jury in a conspiracy alleged to have brought more than 100 kilos of cocaine into Columbia, Mo.

A total of 15 defendants have been charged in the conspiracy, Graves said. Eight defendants have been sentenced among the 12 defendants who have entered guilty pleas. One defendant is now deceased. The conspiracy to which the defendants admitted, Graves explained, involved purchasing cocaine from a source in Texas, then transporting it to Missouri for distribution in the Columbia area between January 1998 and September 21, 2001.

Desmond Fontaine Turner, 23, currently in state custody, was sentenced by U.S. District Judge Nanette K. Laughrey this morning to 19 years and seven months in prison without parole for conspiring with others to distribute at least 50 grams of crack cocaine in Boone County from about January 1998 to September 21, 2001. Turner was also sentenced, in a separate case, to 10 years in prison without parole for being a felon in possession of a firearm. Those sentences are concurrent. Turner pleaded guilty to both of those charges on May 24, 2002.

Juan Marcel Hord, 30, of Columbia, was sentenced by U.S. District Judge Nanette K. Laughrey this morning to 15 years and eight months in prison without parole. Hord pleaded guilty on April 19, 2002, to one count of conspiring to distribute and possession with the intent to distribute at least 50 grams of crack cocaine between January 1998 and September 21, 2001.

Rhonda Kaye White, 44, of Houston, Texas, was sentenced by U.S. District Judge Nanette K. Laughrey this morning to five years and three months in prison without parole. White pleaded guilty on May 24, 2002 to one count of the federal indictment, which alleges that she conspired with others to distribute at least 5 kilos of cocaine in Boone County between January 1998 to September 21, 2001. White also pleaded guilty to a second count of the federal indictment, which alleges that she conspired with others to launder the proceeds from cocaine trafficking.

Byron D. Ballinger, 43, of Columbia, Mo., was sentenced by U.S. District Judge Nanette K. Laughrey this afternoon to eight years and four months in prison without parole. Ballinger pleaded guilty on June 19, 2002, to two counts of the federal indictment, which alleges that he distributed and possessed with the intent to distribute crack cocaine in Boone County on July 20, 2000 and on July 27, 2000.

ADDITIONAL DEFENDANTS

Not all of the defendants are charged in every count of the federal indictment, which includes four separate but related conspiracy charges, two criminal forfeiture counts, and 26 various substantive charges.

Charles Key, Jr. 28, was sentenced to 30 years in prison without parole on the distributing cocaine charge and 20 years in prison without parole on the money laundering count on September 27, 2002. The two sentences will be served concurrently. Key pleaded guilty on April 26, 2002, to conspiring with others to distribute and to possess with the intent to distribute five kilos or more of cocaine. Key also pleaded guilty to conspiring with others to launder the proceeds from cocaine trafficking.

Zachary Cornelius Warfield, 29, was sentenced to 10 years in prison without parole, to run concurrent to a 31-month sentence he is currently serving. Warfield pleaded guilty on May 24, 2002 to Count One of the federal indictment, which alleges that he conspired with others to distribute at least five kilos of cocaine in Boone County between January 1998 and September 21, 2001.

Sheila Michelle Jeys, 36, and Kimberly R. Black, 27, both of Columbia, were each sentenced to two years and six months in prison without parole for conspiring with others to distribute and possession with the intent to distribute at least five kilos of cocaine. They were also sentenced to two years and six months in prison without parole for conspiring with others to launder the proceeds from cocaine trafficking. The court ordered those sentences to be served concurrently. Jeys and Black each pleaded guilty to those charges on April 19, 2002.
